the rumpus. Chappelle, nearly to a man and woman, was on hand. It wasn't a championship multitude, either, though the weather distributors swept the sky almost clear of its dark cloud fleecy and turned on the sun.

It was "Harting Hill" Kennedy's turn to perform, and he clumped through Jack Dunn was hurried up in case of need. Mr. Doherty, of Vermont, essayed to bewitch the Hurst borough leather pouters.

Van Halteren was restored to his position as drum major of the batting parade, Selbach being shoved down two pages again.

Bowerman was relieved of duty and Jack Warner was substituted. Bowerman has never caught Doherty, who is admittedly the hardest man to hold in the league.

The Batting Order.

New York: New York, N. Y., May 3. The batting order for the game between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers was as follows:

First Inning.

Van Halteren at bat, up and pugged it against Doherty, whose poor fling was retrieved by Jennings for an out. Mener jumped to the ball and was a good second in the race.

Second Inning.

Ex-Champion Tells How He Has Trained for His Battle with Jeffries, Which Is Scheduled to Take Place at Coney Island Next Week.

Has Practically Lived Out of Doors at Lakewood and Is Well Satisfied with His Form and Anxiously Waits for the Day.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., May 3.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

In all my training down here I have studied myself more carefully than ever before, and while I have not worked so hard in getting ready for Mr. Jeffries' attentions as I have in preparations for previous battles, my work has been much more effective, and I am satisfied.

I have practically lived out of doors while here and reached the point some time since which suited me. Now I am doing just enough to keep in condition on my outdoor work. I know that I was never in such fine physical condition as now, and am only waiting for the day when I can convince Jeffries that I am the better man.

Yours truly,
JAMES J. CORBETT.

against me, and when I met Jackson it was much the same. But that didn't

Now, then, Brady and others say, "Oh, well, if Corbett was as good when he whipped John L. or Jackson he'd have the long end of the proposition, but he's gone back."

How do they know so cock-sure that I've gone back? I know, and every man who has seen me work here knows that I have not and that I'm fit to fight for my life, and that's what I'm up for.

I am waiting patiently for the date, which has been in my mind for months, to prove that Jeffries can't hold the championship, and my friends need not let their sleep be broken by bad dreams on my account.

Miss Louise Page, an Old Friend and Client of the Lawyer, Leaves Him $42,000 of Her Money.

ABE GRUBER.

Under the will of Louise N. Page, filed for probate this afternoon, Abraham Gruber, the Republican political leader, receives $42,000.

The testatrix makes a number of small bequests to friends and relatives and constitutes Mr. Gruber her residuary legatee. In a summary of the value of the legacies filed with the will the bequest to Mr. Gruber is placed at $42,000.

Mr. Gruber as counsel filed the will. Mr. Gruber was not inclined to discuss his good fortune when seen this afternoon by a reporter for The Evening World.

"I really don't care to say a word about it," said Mr. Gruber. "Oh, yes, Miss Page was an old friend of mine. I had known her for fifteen or twenty years and had looked after her affairs during that time. She was a very kind woman, and when she died, she had no relatives."

CAPTURED THE SHAW.

Vermont Man Hunt Landed Five Days and Bloodhounds Were Used.

WOODSTOCK, Vt., May 3.—The two Shaws—father and son—who murdered Deputy Sheriff Hoffman, were captured near Middleburg today.

A posse had been hunting them for five days, part of the time with bloodhounds.

The men were located early this morning and a farmer drove to the village to notify the officers of the law. The first of the party reached the place before the Shaws were aware that they were discovered.

The fugitives were taken entirely by surprise and Frank Shaw at once began shooting. There was a lively fusillade of bullets for ten minutes.

In the battle Frank Shaw was twice shot and his father had his hat shot from his head. None of the searching party was hit.

IOWA DEMOCRATS CLASH.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 3.—The Democratic State Convention for the election of delegates-at-large to Kansas City was called to order in the Auditorium today by State Chairman George A. Huffman, who introduced Jeremiah B. Sullivan, of Creston, as temporary chairman.

A fight seemed impending over the money plank of the platform. One faction wanted a mild reaffirmation of the Chicago platform only, while another, led by John S. Murphy, insisted on a distinct pronouncement for M to L.

HARVARD CREW PICKED.

Varsity List Includes Weld and Newell Crews and Five of the Second Eight.

CAMBRIDGE, May 3.—The names of the men who will make up the Harvard Varsity crew squad, were announced this morning. The list includes the first eight of the Weld and Newell crews and five of the second crew.

These men will begin rowing tomorrow in two weeks. All of the 25 Varsity crew was retained.

RYAN WORKS FOR M'COY.

Syracuse Middle-Weight Talks of Coming Fight with the Kid.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ASBURY PARK, N. J., May 3.—Tommy Ryan has blossomed into a central figure of interest at the Jeffries training camps since his six-round match with McCoy was finally clinched. Ryan is a little under the weather, owing to a slight attack of rheumatism, due to a cold, but was much better today, however, and performed his daily stunts with Jack Jeffries with characteristic dash and vim.

"My match with Kid McCoy marks a new departure in middle-weight contests," said Ryan today. "It will also establish a new precedent in the central figure of interest at the Jeffries training camps since his six-round match with McCoy was finally clinched. Ryan is a little under the weather, owing to a slight attack of rheumatism, due to a cold, but was much better today, however, and performed his daily stunts with Jack Jeffries with characteristic dash and vim."

Jeffries performed his usual duties today without incident. In company with Ryan and the others the bullfighter kept close watch on the telegraph office, all hands being worked up to fever heat over the expected decision of the Police Commissioners.

"Very heavy men, however, have entered the middle-weight class, and many of them I think I will be able to demonstrate on that occasion how hard it is for a catch-weight fighter to keep prime under an arbitrary weight."

Ryan says he will train here until two days before the fight.

"I taper down very fast and am actually now within the stipulated 155 pounds. I regard McCoy as the greatest catch-weight fighter in the world. When we meet in Chicago we will meet on equal terms. I think I will be able to demonstrate on that occasion how hard it is for a catch-weight fighter to keep prime under an arbitrary weight."
